THINK, SMILE, AND GROW—Trudy and Chris Brinkley shared entertaining and inspirational stories about the power of language, the potential for fun exercise, the possibility for following through with a passion, the creation of a new podcast, and more when they visited the Kiwanis Club of Martin on March 27. Trudy is director of the Elam Center at UT Martin, and Chris serves as the Voice of the Skyhawks and broadcasting coordinator for Athletics. Chris discussed his work with the company Autoio where he reads books and is involved in numerous other projects involving the spoken word.

Trudy encouraged us all to keep exercising and having fun by trying the "in" sport of pickleball. She also shared stories of her passion for Disney World where all ages can enjoy the magic and joy. Chris highlighted his work on a podcast project where he asks others what makes them think, smile, and grow. He said that one person he interviewed told how she and her husband love sunsets.
