Conversation about Kiwanis (Steve)

Last Week

SERVING IN THE COMMUNITY—At the March 26 meeting, Jodie Duncan (third from left), director of Event Management for Athletics at UT Martin, and Rileigh Weiss (left), a senior athlete on the equestrian team, gave a presentation about the outreach and projects in the community coordinated through the Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA). Danelle Fabianich, Kiwanis program chair for March and the UT Martin executive senior associate athletics director for administration and senior woman administrator, introduced Duncan and Weiss. The speakers described the positive reactions of athletes being invited to share stories in various classrooms, to work with students in an after-school program, to organize a fundraiser for food donations, to work with Special Olympics students in various sports, to help award prizes for reading challenges, to raise money and shop for Christmas gifts for deserving families, and much more.

Key Leader Weekend is an extraordinary opportunity for high school students, ages 14-18, to obtain leadership skills by participating in hands-on experiences which help them understand what it means to hold onto your values. There are opportunities for students to be put into real situations with real consequences, and after experiencing these moments, to acquire self-confidence and leadership ability.
