"Kiwanis is a global organization of volunteers dedicated to improving the world, one child and one community at a time."

Today's Program

Martin Kane — Weakley County Playhouse

Last Week:

Melinda Reid, Marketing Manager at LIFELINE Blood Services, encouraged all at the Oct. 8 Kiwanis meeting to be involved in saving lives by donating blood or contributing in other ways for making blood available when family, friends, and neighbors are in need. She explained that one donation can save up to three lives and that the donation process is carefully managed in order to make all donors comfortable. She said, "We greatly appreciate all gifts of life through blood donation." She explained that one can also donate platelets or plasma, help organize a blood drive, encourage others to donate, or make a financial contribution (LifelineBloodServ.org, 731-427-4431). She promoted the opportunity to give blood on Oct. 13 in Martin at Save-a-Lot from noon - 6 p.m. and also register to win a $50 Walmart gift card. Melinda works closely with Sherrona Taylor, donor recruitment coordinator for Weakley and seven other counties in the West Tennessee area. Katie Parr presented Reid with a certificate of appreciation showing that a donation will be made in her honor to Captain's Pantry at UT Martin.
